

TEMPLECOMBE MESSENGER

April 2025 edition

Happy Easter

A Message of Hope

As we step into April, the signs of spring are all around us—blossoming flowers, longer days, and the gentle warmth of the sun. Nature itself seems to echo a timeless message: hope is alive! Hope is essential to the human spirit, and it is never more powerfully expressed than in the Easter story.

For Christians, the resurrection of Jesus Christ is a profound reminder the light can overcome darkness, and renewal follows even the most difficult trials. The despair of Good Friday was transformed into joy of Easter morning when the stone was rolled away, and the tomb was found empty.

This story speaks to the universal longing for renewal, second chances, and the triumph of love over fear. In our own lives, we may face struggles uncertainty, and moments of despair. At times, it can difficult to see beyond the burdens we carry. But the message of Easter reminds us that no situation is beyond the possibility of transformation. Whether through faith, perseverance, or the kindness of others, hope has the power to lift us and lead us forward.

As a community, let us embrace this season of renewal with joyful hearts. Let us extend kindness to one another, offer encouragement to those who are struggling, and live out the spirit of hope. Whether in small acts of love or in steadfast support for those in need, we can all be bearers of light in the world.

May this season of hope fill your hearts and homes, and may we all walk forward with confidence in the power of renewal and love.

St Mary's Team.

Templecombe Music Night

The music night has developed over the last four years, having a catchment area of people coming at least 10 miles from Templecombe.

There are various combinations of singing, with or without instruments, when we have time most nights to get in three songs. Some practice at home and play on the night which is well received, as nothing is judgemental and always receives praise. It doesn't matter whether you've been playing an Instrument for years or have just started.

If you would like to find out more, please contact Alan Berry on 01963 370716.

William Shakespeare was born on April 26th, 1564 in Stratford (it later became Stratford Upon Avon).

He is widely considered the world's greatest dramatist.

He wrote 38 plays and 154 sonnets.

He married Anne Hathaway who was 8 years older than him.

There are no living descendants of Shakespeare.

The Glove Theatre built by Shakespeare was burnt to the ground and rebuilt the next year.

During his lifetime, it was illegal for women to perform on stage—all parts were played by men.

He died on April 26th, 1616.

National Tea Day

Monday 21st April

Tea is a common household beverage both nationally and internationally. Thousands of people drink tea daily, allowing them to choose from many different varieties and flavours such as Earl Grey English breakfast, matcha, chai and green tea, among many more. Just like coffee, it can be made to your liking, either hot or cold, with sugar/ sweetener with or without milk, weak or strong.

Established in 2016, National Tea Day was created on Queen Elizabeth II's birthday as a way to enjoy a classic beverage and pretend you're royalty. The slogan is "Brew more, do more", and the aim is to inspire special and heartwarming moments with tea.

Consisting of not only herbal, fruit black, white and green varieties, teas are heavily ingrained in the development of culture worldwide, each region specialising in a particular variety.

Afternoon tea was introduced in Britain in the early 1840's by the 7th Duchess of Bedford, Anna Maria Russell, (one of Queen Victoria's ladies-in-waiting), to satisfy hunger between lunch and dinner. With the invention of gas lighting, the upper classes were not having their evening meal until nearly 9pm—with lunch having been served at around midday.

The Duchess of Bedford was having none of it. She described having a 'sinking feeling' at about 5pm—she became despondent at the void between lunch and dinner. She requested that some tea, bread and butter and cake was brought to her room in the late afternoon. With that one request of a lady's grumbling stomach, a ritual was born. Needing very little prompting to find an occasion to squeeze in another cup of tea and a piece of cake, the upper classes ate it up and the fashionable custom soon spread across Britain.

Simnel Cake

By Mary Berry—Saturday Kitchen

Ingredients:

175g light muscovado sugar
175g butter, softened
175g self raising flour
3 large eggs
25g ground almonds
2 tbsp milk
100g sultanas
100g cherries, quartered, wash & dried
100g dried apricots, snipped into small pieces
100g stem ginger, finely chopped
1 tsp mixed spice
2 tsp ground ginger

To serve:

450g golden marzipan
3 tbsp apricot jam
1 egg, beaten

To decorate:

flowers such as primroses, violets or narcissi
egg white
caster sugar

Method:

1. Preheat the oven to 160c/320f/gas mark 3.
2. Grease and line the base and sides of an 20cm/8 inch deep, round tin with baking parchment.
3. Measure all the cake ingredients into a large mixing bowl, and beat well until thoroughly blended. Place half the mixture into the prepared tin and level the surface.
4. Take one third of the marzipan and roll into a circle the same size as the cake tin, place the circle on top of the cake mixture. Spoon the remaining mixture on top of the marzipan and level the surface.
5. Bake for about one and three-quarter to two hours, or until golden brown and firm in the middle. If toward the end of the cooking time the cake is getting too brown, loosely cover with a piece of foil. Allow the cake to cool in the tin before turning out onto a cooling rack.
6. When the cake is cool, brush the top with a little warmed apricot jam, Roll out the remaining marzipan to the size of the cake and sit it on the top. Crimp the edges of the marzipan and make a lattice pattern in the centre of the marzipan using a sharp knife. Make 11 even sized balls from the remaining marzipan and arrange around the edge.
7. Brush with beaten egg and glaze under a hot grill for about five minutes, turning the cake so it browns evening, so the marzipan is tinged brown all over.
8. To crystallise the flowers, lightly whisk the egg white in a bowl then carefully brush over the flower petals.
9. Sprinkle over caster sugar, so the sugar sticks to the egg white. Leave the flowers to harden in a warm place, until dry and firm.
10. Carefully remove flowers from the cake rack and arrange in the centre of the cake.
